Dear Andrew,
I got your letter this morning all right. And must say that if you did not get the paper it was no fault of mine as Jacob made it out after a great deal of coaxing & when it came to the signing he signed and then scored it out and said he would not sign so I have been all week working to try and get it signed and tonight he has promised to have it for me to bring up and I will send it up with Charles. Charles did not go up on that a/c as he was waiting for me to send the papers by him and I suppose will be as much disappointed as we

have been in the matter I don't want to say a word about any one to their detriment but Jacob owed you no good will.
he says you have been his greatest persecutor and was down on him whenever you could be that of course is between you & him and a thing I have nothing to do with but it has been made an excuse of ever since you left and that you are only trying to get the rest of us into trouble is another excuse. God knows Andrew I only wish that the matter will be amicably settled according to the agreement entered into by us all. give my love to all & believe me ever

Yours,
John DeWitt Sr.
